

Hybrid working. Five tips for creating a hybrid work culture

---

With Gini Holden and Natasha Bradley

Welcome

About us

- The Inform Team
- Your presenters
- Housekeeping
- Ask us questions!

* When you ask a question in chat, attendees will see your name

the inform team

Gini Holden

- Extensive background in implementing change strategies
- Three decades of experience launching successful business initiatives

Natasha Bradley

- Worked in the IT industry for over 12 years
- Understands technology and how it can be used to overcome business challenges

Hybrid environments are a challenge

They can be a challenge to humans because of:

The continuous shift from face-to-face and video meetings

The different amount of work the brain must do

The way teams form, share and work together

Five tips that can make a difference

One

Share your mistakes actively and positively

Two

Understand and create your team's value to the organisation and each individual

Three

Create active onboarding and offboarding to your team

Four

Foster and support – no one person has the monopoly on a right answer

Celebrate success and show how it relates to your group value

BEING HUMAN MATTERS

Questions

Next steps

Free envisioning session with one of our training experts

To book contact
natasha.bradley@theinformteam.com

